

Scenario test website Pixel Paranoia

Tasks:

- Navigate to the homepage
- Check our services
- Read the content
- Search the contact section

Questions:

- What is your first impression of the design?
 - o The first impression was that it looked more like a gaming design studio rather than a UX studio.
 - o Really likes the design.
- Was it easy to navigate?
 - o Navigation was fine, but the design needs some adjustments to make it feel more user-friendly.
 - o Navigation was easy but make the flow different.
- Was it hard to find certain information?
 - o No, the information was easy to find, but the homepage could be clearer.
 - o No, the information was accessible
- How do you feel about the effects?
 - o The slow-typing text effect wasn't ideal; it felt a bit distracting and slowed down the flow of reading. Especially because of the placing and disturbing of the video.
 - o Placement of text and video were distracting.
- What do you think of the contact section?
 - o The contact section was unnecessary for a school project.
 - o It's fine, just make sure to keep same style.
- How do you think over the design overall?
 - o Overall, the design was decent, though it could use improvements, so the style is consistent on the whole page.
 - o Looks good.
- What feeling of impression do you get looking at our website?
 - o The website felt more like a gaming or creative agency site, which doesn't align with the goal of a UX studio.
- What do you think of the flow?
 - o The flow was okay, but the homepage needs improvement.
